Manglik Analysis

What is manglik dosha?

In the horoscope of a boy or a girl, the presence of Mars, Sun, Saturn, Rahu, or Ketu in the first, fourth, seventh, eighth, or twelfth house is believed to create a condition known as "Manglik dosh."

The strength of Manglik dosh is considered more significant when Mars is positioned in the ascendant, compared to when it is conjoined with the Moon in the ascendant. If, according to the Shastras (ancient texts), the Manglik dosh is nullified for both the boy and the girl, they are believed to be destined for a happy and harmonious married life.

However, if the Manglik dosh remains uncancelled, it is thought to lead to unnecessary problems and obstacles in their lives. Therefore, it is advisable for individuals to have their horoscopes thoroughly matched before embarking on married life. By properly nullifying the Manglik dosh, one can expect a life filled with peace and prosperity.

Neither the boy nor the girl has Mangal Dosha in their horoscopes, which means there will be no adverse effects on their marriage. Based on this assessment, their match is recommended.

What is ashtakoot?

In North India, there is a traditional and straightforward method of Kundli Milan called "Ashtakoota Milan," which is part of Guna Milan. Guna Milan involves matching the horoscopes of two individuals to assess their compatibility for marriage. It focuses on evaluating eight qualities or aspects, known as "Gunas," each assigned a numeric value based on their importance in determining various aspects of a couple's compatibility.

The eight Gunas considered in Ashtakoota Milan are as follows:

1. Varna: Assessing the spiritual compatibility and understanding between the couple.
2. Vashya: Examining the dominance and control dynamics in the relationship.
3. Tara: Analyzing the health and well-being of the couple and their impact on each other.
4. Yoni: Evaluating the physical and sexual compatibility between the partners.
5. Graha Maitri: Assessing the planetary friendship between the Moon signs of the individuals.
6. Gana: Determining the temperament and behavior compatibility of the couple.
7. Bhakoota: Evaluating the emotional compatibility and harmony between the two.
8. Nadi: Assessing the genetic compatibility and the possibility of health issues.

Each Guna is crucial in determining the overall compatibility between the couple. The cumulative score of all eight Gunas indicates the level of compatibility and the potential for a successful and harmonious marriage.

Bhakut Dosha

What is bhakut dosha?

The technique used to assess a couple's ability to cooperate harmoniously and work constructively together is known as "Bha Kuta." In this method, "Bha" refers to the signs of the zodiac, and the Kuta is based on the positions of the Moon signs of the couple's horoscopes. For a positive Bha Kuta, the following conditions should be met:

1. The Moon signs of the couple should be the same.
2. The Moon signs should be in the 7th position from each other.
3. The Moon signs should be in the 3rd and 11th positions from each other.
4. Alternatively, the Moon signs should be in the 4th and 10th positions from each other.

If any of these conditions are met, the couple earns seven points for their BhaKuta compatibility.

bhakoot dosha is present

The couple may lack emotional attachement with each other. Since bhakoot is one of the most countable scale in the match making intrument, getting a low score makes the chances of qualifying the match for the marriage becomes very slim. The bhakoot score 0 means there is a bhakoot dosha. Such couples are more individualised in the relationshiip. They are focused towards individual rather than collective achievements. They find it hard to sacrifice their way of life for their partner resulting in poor emotional adjustment. Insecurities and lack of trust seen profoundly in this dosha.

Nadi Dosha

What is nadi?

According to Ayurveda, the human body comprises three elements known as Vaat, Pitta, and Kapha. If an individual has an excess of the Vaat element, they should avoid consuming foods that aggravate Vaat. Failure to do so may lead to health problems related to Vaat, such as High Uric Acid and Gout. Similarly, in astrology, there are three Nadi categories: Aadi, Madhya, and Antya.

When it comes to matchmaking, having the same Nadi as your partner is considered unfavorable. It is advised not to marry if both individuals share the same Nadi. Ignoring the Nadi Dosha and marrying someone with the same Nadi may lead to health-related issues and a lack of attraction between partners. Affection and deep love may be challenging to develop in such a union.

In summary, just as Ayurveda advises balancing the body's elements for overall well-being, astrology considers Nadi compatibility for harmonious and fulfilling relationships. Choosing a partner with a different Nadi is recommended to avoid potential health and emotional challenges in the future.

What is Dashakoot?

In ancient India, sages and saints devised a method called 'Marriage Matching' or 'Match-making' to ensure a long and happy married life. This process involved assessing the matrimonial adaptability or compatibility between a couple based on the Birth Stars of the boy and the girl. Originally, they recommended 20 kootas for matching, but over time, the focus narrowed down to 10 essential kootas. In some regions of India, only 8 kootas are considered, and hence it is also popularly known as 'Das Poritham' in Hindi or '10 Porutham' in Tamil.

The 10 Porutham considered for horoscope matching are as follows:

1. Dinam: Assessing the health and well-being compatibility of the couple.
2. Ganam: Determining the temperament and character compatibility between the partners.
3. Mahendhram: Evaluating the longevity and life span harmony of the couple.
4. Sthree Deergam: Assessing the general well-being and prosperity of the bride.
5. Yoni: Evaluating the physical and sexual compatibility between the individuals.
6. Rasi: Examining the emotional and mental compatibility based on Moon signs.
7. Rasyadhipathi: Assessing the friendship between the Moon signs of the couple.
8. Vasya: Determining the dominance and control dynamics in the relationship.
9. Rajju: Evaluating the physical and mental well-being of the couple.
10. Vedha: Checking for potential afflictions or doshas that may affect the marriage.

These 10 Porutham play a significant role in determining the overall compatibility between the boy and the girl.
